

Jamie McDonnell, left, Ronnie Brown, Dr. Eddie Dauer, and Sun Sentinel's Mary Helen Olejnik

Sun Sentinel's Michelle Simon, left, and Anthony Hamawy

Dr. Ryan Greene, left, Allison Dauer, Robin Levinson, and Tony Segreto

Patrick Flannery, left, Richard Famiglietti, and Saul Epstein

'Evening to Celebrate Classic Beauty'

Event to raise funds for Sun Sentinel Children's Fund and The Ronnie Brown Project

The second annual "Evening to Celebrate Classic Beauty" will be held on March 3 from 6:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at The Dauer Museum of Classic Cars, 10801 N.W. 50th St., Sunrise. Hosted by facial plastic and reconstructive surgeon Dr. Ryan Greene, with special guests NFL running back Ronnie Brown and broadcaster Tony Segreto, the evening will feature classic cars, a live auction and food. All proceeds from the event will benefit the Sun Sentinel Children's Fund and The Ronnie Brown Project.

As guests enter the Dauer Museum of Classic Cars, on display will be more than 60 vintage automobiles some dating as far as the beginning of the last century. Throughout the evening, guests are invited to mingle with Ronnie Brown, event MC Tony Segreto, Dr. Greene, and other local notables as they dine on bites from local restaurants including East City Grill, SoLita Las Olas, The Capital Grille,

Chops Lobster Bar, Tokyo Blue, Valentino's Cucina Italiano, Cafe Maxx and UdderSweets, with specialty wines from Palm Bay International.

Event sponsors include Emerald Asset Advisors, ParkCreek Surgery Center, East City Grill, Rick Case Automotive Group, Lumenis, The Dauer Museum of Classic Cars, Specialty Retina Center, the Law Offices of Jason Turchin and Specialty Orthopedic Center. The "Evening to Celebrate Classic Beauty" will also feature a live auction sponsored by Cruise.com, Levinson Jewelers, W Fort Lauderdale, Allied Kitchen & Bath, TPC Eagle Trace, the University of Miami and the Richmond Hotel.

Since 1991, through the Sun Sentinel Children's Fund, a

Ronnie Brown, left, Dr. Ryan Greene, and Tony Segreto

McCormick Foundation Fund, more than $38 million has been granted to organizations serving low-income families in Broward and Palm Beach

Ronnie Brown

Counties. One hundred percent of each donation, plus the match from the McCormick Foundation, goes directly to organizations that provide programs and services to assist local disadvantaged populations.

The Ronnie Brown Project is a comprehensive program consisting of specific initiatives designed to address critical issues and challenges faced by the youth of South Florida on a daily basis. For more information on The Ronnie Brown Project, visit www.theronniebrownproject.org.

Guests are required to RSVP by Feb. 25 to events@kiphuntermarketing.com or by calling 954-765-1329.

Bill Feinberg, left, Allan Budelman, and Ryan Case